7. Description

The Hannah Burrington House at 315 4th Street SW is estimated to have been constructed in 1900 according to the Bremer County Assessor's records. A footprint for a similar house appears on the 1894 Sanborn Map. The Henry and Hannah Burrington family with their four children is listed in the 1885 Iowa Census residing on this property and again in the 1895 Census in the same ward. However, newspaper accounts from early 1894 after Henry died, suggest a new house was being built in the Third Ward "next to old" by his wife (3/22/1894 and 4/26/1894). These public records suggest it is likely that the house was built in ca. 1894 rather than 1900.

The house is an example of Cross-Gabled Roof, 2-Story house form with Queen Anne Style elements. The house has a cut stone block foundation with medium-width wood clapboard siding on the walls of the first and second floors, narrow clapboard siding in the gable peaks on the third level, and a wide belt-course or story-board separating the levels and at the corners. A moderate pitched intersecting gable roof has shallow eaves and returning cornices in the gable ends. A low-pitched hipped roof wrap-around porch extends along the front and south facades. Low-pitched pediments are at the ends of the porch above the front entrances steps and south entrance steps as well as the angled corner porch section facing southwest. Wood trim in the form of sun-bursts fills the tympanums of each of the pediments. The porch roof's eaves are devoid of ornamentation and the house's eaves are also without ornamentation except for the returning cornices in each of the gabled-ends. The front entrance porch has simulated turned posts for roof supports with wood cores and vinyl exteriors. The balustrade and skirting have been replaced with vinyl finished turned style spindles and vinyl lattice sheeting.

Fenestration includes original openings filled with single 1/1 double-hung windows of various sizes with wide spacing on both levels of each facade. A feature window on the front façade has a shed roof hood supported by spindled brackets. On the south, a hipped roofed angular bay is on the upper level with a larger angular bay window on the lower level. The house has an addition built in 1984-1985 that is clad in vinyl siding. The 1-story single-bay attached garage has a moderate-pitched hipped roof with wood clapboard siding. It extends along the rear (east) wall with the overhead door facing north. It was added in 2009 after the flood of 2008 destroyed an earlier free-standing garage on an adjacent lot.

8. Significance

The Hannah Burrington House at 315 4th Street SW derives significance as a contributing resource in the Sturdevant SW Historic District under both Criteria A and C. The historic district qualifies for the National Register of Historic Places as a well-preserved collection of mid and late 19th century and early 20th century architectural styles and vernacular house forms located in Waverly's southwest residential neighborhood. The neighborhood developed as a middle class and working class residential district from the late 1850s through the mid-20th century.

Historical Background for Waverly¹

Waverly was established in 1853 along the Cedar River in Waverly Township located in southeastern Bremer County. It was designated as the county seat for Bremer County the same year that the county was officially organized and was formally incorporated in 1859. Like most Iowa towns established before the Civil War, growth during the early 1860s was deferred until after the war came to a close. Waverly's first railroad, the Cedar Falls and Minnesota Railroad was extended to Waverly in 1864. Eventually track was also laid for other branch lines and an electric interurban. By 1917 track for branch lines was absorbed by the Chicago and Great Western Railroad and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad. Track for the electric interurban – the Waterloo, Cedar Falls, and Northern – was laid in 1910 but usage was never as substantial as predicted.

Waverly grew in the manner typical of other Iowa county seats in the late 19th and early 20th century. Its commercial center extended along the east-west route of Bremer Avenue on both sides of the Bremer Avenue Bridge that crossed the L-shaped course of the Cedar River as it passed through the center of town. The county courthouse was located outside of the commercial area on a slight prominence at the east end of Bremer Avenue. Residential districts grew up in the four quadrants formed by the intersecting main street and river. The broad, generally flat profile of both the business district and early residential neighborhoods saw the regular occurrence of flooding resulting in the gradual replacement of most first generation frame building stock. German immigrants were among the largest ethnic group to populate Waverly during the 19th century establishing religious institutions with ethnic affiliations such as St. Paul's Lutheran Church in the northwest quadrant, St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in southeast quadrant, and the German Methodist Church.

Bremer County and its county seat of Waverly prospered during the late 19th and early 20th century becoming a retail and professional services center for Bremer County and sections of adjacent Butler County. The county's standing as the "Dairy Spot of Iowa," gave rise to a number of dairy industries including a manufacturing plant operated by the Carnation Milk Products Company for the production of condensed milk in the 1920s. Population stood at 16,300 people in 1900 before the growth rate slowed before World War I. By 1930 population topped 17,000. Expansion of a Lutheran seminary in Waverly first located in the community in 1879 through the relocation of Wartburg College to the community in 1939 was a cultural and economic stimulus for the community. Waverly continued to add a 1,000 people per decade until 1950 when the post-War boom saw growth accelerate to more than 21,000 by 1960. During the past 50 years population has slowed somewhat topping out at 23,325 in 2000.

Historical Background for the Hannah Burrington House at 315 4th Street SW:

The Hannah Burrington House at 315 4th Street SW is located in the southwest quadrant of Waverly that includes additions platted by early Waverly settlers, Ira Sturdevant and his son William Sturdevant. The Sturdevant family moved to the unsettled area along the Cedar River in the mid-1850s. Ira received a 40-acre federal land grant based on his military service in the War of 1812. William acquired 80 acres of adjoining land to the north of his father's 40-acre parcel. In 1857 the William Sturdevant's Addition was laid out and in 1860 the Ira Sturdevant Addition was platted. Growth remained relatively slow in these subdivisions until after the Civil War.

The Henry and Hannah Burrington family with their four children is listed in the 1885 Iowa Census residing on this property. The Burrington family is again listed in the 1895 Census in the same ward. However, newspaper accounts from early 1894 after Henry died, suggest a new house was being built in the Third Ward "next to old" by his wife (3/22/1894 and 4/26/1894). These public records suggest it is likely that the house was built in ca. 1894 by Hannah Burrington.
